

Community Pharmacies: Surviving and Thriving in the Future

21st May 2017, 9am to 4pm; Fielder Centre, Hatfield, AL10 9TP

The University of Hertfordshire in conjunction with Hertfordshire LPC is delighted to be offering this FREE masterclass to support community pharmacies in Hertfordshire with service delivery improvements and sustainability as part of a multidisciplinary healthcare team aligned with the NHS and community pharmacy forward view.

This masterclass will be delivered through a range of methods including presentations, group discussions, workshops, case studies, and practical activities focusing on the following topics:

- Community Pharmacy Quality Payments Scheme Criteria
- Collaborative working within a multidisciplinary healthcare team
- Diabetes, Atrial Fibrillation and Asthma
- Community pharmacy advanced and commissioned services including NMS and MUR.
- The impact of technology in service delivery
- Application of local and national Public Health policy
- Applying techniques in the workplace to promote patient safety and reduce undesirable incidents.

This masterclass is aimed at professionals working within the community pharmacy workforce including pharmacists, technicians and support staff. A full agenda will be sent out in due course, including key local and national speakers.

There will be opportunities to engage with representatives advancing the use of digital technology in healthcare provision and support.

Further information will be communicated electronically following confirmed registration including the aims and learning outcomes of the event and directed reading that will need to be completed before the event.

This is a Continuing Professional Development (CPD) activity and you will be provided with a certificate upon attendance.

Don't miss out on this exciting event. Book your place today as numbers are limited.

Closing date for registration is Wednesday 29th March 2017
